Project's

- Project Tittle – SEMANTIC ANALYSIS ON ONLINE PRODUCT REVIEW USING PYTHON
- A Python-based Semantic Analysis system was developed to process online product reviews.
- The system employed NLP and machine learning to gain valuable insights from customer feedback.
- Core functionalities included sentiment analysis, to determine emotional tone, keyword extraction, to identify significant terms, and topic modeling, to uncover underlying themes.
- These techniques were used to effectively understand consumer preferences.
- Libraries such as NLTK were utilized in the implementation.
- PY-Hash Value Generator and Identifier
- A Python tool for cybersecurity applications.
- Functionality: Generates hash values using MD5, SHA-1, SHA-256, and SHA-512 algorithms.
- Hash Identification: Identifies unknown hash types based on length and structure.
- Interface: Provides a simple, user-friendly command-line interface (CLI).
- Cross-Platform: Runs efficiently on Windows, Linux, and macOS using Python 3.x and hashlib
