Project

TITLE : A Network intrusion detection system for Building Automation control systems

Summary:

The increasing integration of IoT and smart technologies in Building Automation and Control Systems (BACS), cybersecurity has become a critical concern. Traditional security measures are insufficient to protect against evolving cyber threats targeting HVAC, lighting, access control and energy management systems. This project focuses on developing a Network Intrusion Detection System (NIDS) specifically designed for BACS to detect and mitigate unauthorized access, network anomalies and Developed and Implemented a Network Intrusion Detection System (NIDS) to monitor and protect Building Automation and Control Systems (BACS) from cyber threats .

Utilized Open-Source IDS Tools like Snort

Continuous Monitoring signal for real-time traffic analysis and anomaly detection
