PROJECTS

Test Guardian using Computer Vision

- Built an advanced computer vision tools to keep online exams secure by spotting cheating or unusual behavior during live tests.
- Used Algorithms to recognize faces and detect banned objects, helping monitor the exam room and catch things like unauthorized devices or suspicious actions in real time.
- Improved the system by fine-tuning the Algorithms so they could quickly and accurately spot problems.

Plant Leaf Disease Detection using Machine Learning

- Built machine learning models to detect plant leaf diseases early, helping farmers take action quickly and protect their crops.
- Used image processing and to find important patterns in leaf photos, which made the disease detection more accurate.
- Developed an easy-to-use tool that shows real-time results, allowing farmers and agriculture workers to identify plant diseases and make better decisions.

Emotion Detection using Machine Learning

- Built machine learning models to recognize emotions by analyzing facial expressions using large labeled datasets.
- Used convolutional neural networks (CNNs) to identify and classify facial features, making the model more accurate for people from different backgrounds..
- Created a real-time system to detect emotions, useful for mental health tools, improving customer experience, and interactive applications.
